ON A JOURNEY OF HOPE

Abby & Josh's Journey to Hope

Abby and Josh met through mutual friends in college and have now been married for four years. They dreamed of starting a family, but after 16 months of trying to conceive, that dream began to feel uncertain.

Abby sensed something wasn't right.

Despite prolonged cycles, extended bleeding, and intense cramping, her concerns were often dismissed as "normal." But Abby understood that common does not always mean normal, and continued searching for answers.

A friend recommended exploring NaProTechnology, and after some research, Abby and Josh discovered the Creighton Model at St. Gianna Center.

For Abby, it was eye-opening. She was so encouraged to find providers who helped set her on a path to truly understand her body and God-given fertility, uncovering the root causes of her hormonal imbalances and struggles.

For Josh, it was empowering. Rather than sitting on the sidelines while Abby navigated everything on her own, St. Gianna Center invited him into the conversation and allowed him to truly come alongside his wife, carrying the lessons together.

With your support, more couples like Abby and Josh can find answers, healing, and hope, restoring trust in God's design for generations to come.

Through personalized care and guidance, St. Gianna Center validated Abby's experience and equipped Josh with practical ways to support her.

Abby and Josh's journey also deepened their faith. Letting go of control wasn't easy, but it invited them to trust in God's design in a new way. "I didn't want to just get pregnant at all costs," Abby said. "I wanted to truly understand what was going on in my body and get to the root."

In July 2025, Abby and Josh welcomed a beautiful baby girl. Even beyond pregnancy, St. Gianna Center continues to walk alongside them with holistic, ongoing support.

"What they do really does bring glory to God," Abby shared. Josh added, "They're helping bring new life, and it's pleasing to the Lord."
